

pgvector is a PostgreSQL extension for vector storage and similarity search.
LiteLLM provides a unified interface for different language model providers.
FastAPI is the backend web framework for this RAG project.
This PDF is generated automatically for local testing.